

FALL AUCTION SALE

Our next Auction Sale is scheduled for early Fall --- October 18 - 19, at the Biltmore Hotel, Dayton, Ohio.

Several outstanding consignments have already been received, among them a nearly complete set of U.S. Dimes including the Uncirculated 1796, a Proof 1859 Transitional Dime and many of the rare mint marks in choice condition. Also many other choice United States coins and Foreign Crowns.

Material already consigned assures us a good Sale and we will issue a quality catalogue to our AUCTION Mailing List of nearly 5,000 clients. This mailing list is entirely independent of our COINS & CHATTER List. So, if you have not been a successful bidder at one of our past Sales -- and you would like a catalogue of this Sale, you had better drop us a line. A postcard will do.

We can still handle several nice consignments of U.S. coins and currency. Time is short so let us know as soon as possible if you are interested.

WHAT WE GUARANTEE

- 1. To properly grade and classify your material.
- 2. To present it to approximately five-thousand active buying colcollectors in an attractive and intelligent manner.
- 3. To issue a quality catalogue.
- 4. To conduct an honest and dignified sale.
- 5. To settle in full within thirty days after Sale.

"DIX" CIVIL WAR TOKENS"

During the War between the States, coins of the smaller denominations became so scarce that some merchants issued their own tokens (Civil War tokens). Many of these pieces carried advertisements while others bore patriotic figures and legends.

These circulated by the thousands and it was with considerable difficulty that the government finally caused them to be withdrawn after the war.

One of these tokens is of interest primarily because of its reference to an amusing episode in Civil War history. On the obverse is the American flag and on the reverse the name "Dix" in a circle surrounded by the legend "If anybody attempts to tear it down---shoot him on the spot."

The "Dix" mentioned on the token refers to John A. Dix, then Secretary of the Treasury who, on January 29, 1861, sent the following message to the commanding officer at New Orleans whose duty it was to protect the United States mint located there: "If anyone attempts to haul down the American flag, shoot him on the spot."

These were brave words to send from a swivel chair in the then safe capitol to a man with a small force in the midst of the opposition, and the disgust of the receiver of the message may well be imagined.

Needless to say, the Confederates took the mint with little difficulty.

The last generation that spent gold coins is dying fast. Even those that spent silver dollars are getting gray.

'Some of our customers like it better when it's clean and neat."

THE COIN IN THE FISH'S MOUTH

Jesus and His disciples had recently returned from their trip north into the Paneas country.

"And when they were come to Capernaum, they that received the tribute money came to Peter and said, Doth not your Master pay tribute?

"He saith, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Jesus prevented him, saying, What thinkest thou, Simon? of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute of their own children, or of strangers?

"Peter saith unto Him, Of strangers Jesus saith unto him, Then are the children free.

"Notwithstanding, lest we should offend them, go thou to the sea, and cast an hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a piece of money; that take, and give unto them for me and thee." (Mat.17:24-27)

What "piece of money" was that? Let's reason it through. The quotation is from the Authorized Version. The Revised Version has it, "...thou shalt find a shekel."

The amount required by the Jews as sacred tribute for one was a half shekel. For two, the requirement would be one shekel. Here is the Mosaic law:

"The rich shall not give more, and the poor shall not give less than half a shekel, when they give an offering unto the Lord, to make an atonement for your souls."
(Ex. 30: 15)

We know that coin had to be of the silver value of a shekel of silver in Moses' time -- weight, of course, for there were no coins in Moses' time

Our first thought is of the Maccabaean shekels made in the second century B.C. But they had disappeared from common circulation by Christ's time. That eliminates the Jewish shekel.

We inquire what coins were in circulation in Christ's time, that were accepted as of shekel value. We learn that several tetradrachms passed for shekel value. No doubt Syrian and Egyptian tetradrachms filtered through Judaean markets. We remember that money-changers at the Temple in Jerusalem received their gains by overcharging for changing coins of visitors into coins acceptable as sacred tribute. Surely, both Syrian and Egyptian tetradrachms would have been in their gatherings. So we eliminate such from our consideration.

Now we have attained unto some sounder footing -- two more tetradrachms -- coins which we know were in circulation in Jesus' time -- the tetradrachm of Antioch, capitol of the Asiatic Roman provinces, where the disciples were first called Christians (Acts 11:26), that although in commerce it was equally acceptable with the tetradrachms of Tyre, it contains only four-fifths as much silver as does the tetradrachm of Tyre of the same period.

The foregoing prepares us for acceptance of the testimony of the learned Jewish rabbis. THE TALMUD is their book explaining the laws of the Pentateuch. The Palestinian Talmud was written about 350 A.D. The Babylonian about 550 A.D. Talmudic laws excluded tetradrachms of Antioch from the Temple treasury; that is, all coins but Tyrian (Tyre of Phoenicia) were excluded -- only Tyrian coins were acceptable as sacred tribute.

If you do not have access to THE TALMUD, you can find confirmation of this in Hastings DICTIONARY OF THE BIBLE, Vol. 111, pp. 422 and 432.

The foregoing seems quite conclusive evidence, that the coin in the fish's mouth was none other than a tetradrachm of Tyre. It has on its obverse the Phoenician god Melkarth; he was one of the Baalim. On its reverse is an eagle, symbol of strength, majesty, power and farseeing. Tucked under the eagle's wing is a palm branch, symbol of victory. He is standing on a rudder.

ANCIENT TYRE OF PHOENICIA

B. C. 106-105 Tetradrachm (Shekel) Described in preceding article. This is not only the coin taken from the Fish's Mouth, but also the coin referred to in Matthew 27:5, "Thirty pieces of silver..."for which Judas betrayed Christ. We are fortunate in being able to offer a few choice specimens.

WHICH ONE

In "MAN TO MAN ANSWERS" in a recent issue of TRUE Magazine, the question was asked - "How did the dollar sign originate?"

Possibly not realizing that this is one of the most controversial subjects in numismatics today, they gave the following answer, using the U.S. Treasury as the authority. Quote: "....it is the result of evolution, independently in different places, of the Mexican or Spanish use of the "P" for pesos, piastres, or pieces of eight. The idea, derived from a study of old manuscripts, is that the "S" gradually came to be written over the "P", thereby developing a close equivalent of the $ mark, which eventually evolved. The sign was widely used before adoption of the U.S. dollar in 1785." Unquote.

Here are several other theories regarding this subject:

- 1. It is a modification of the figure "8" from the 8 Reale piece which circulated extensively in this country and had considerable influence on our coinage.
- It is a combination of H-S, at one time the mark of the Roman Mint.
- 3. It was taken from the Spanish dollar. On the reverse of this piece is a representation of the Pillars of Hercules, and around each pillar a scroll with the inscription "Plus Ultra This device in the course of time degenerating into the dollar sign.
- 4. It is a combination of P and S from the Spanish peso duro which means "hard dollar." In Spanish accounts peso is controlled by writing the S over the P, and placing it over the sum.

Personally, I favor the following theory: That it is a combination of U and S, the initials of the United States.
